

Choose an activity each week. Share what you have done on social media. Use #ALgifted and #AlabamaAchieves and @alabamagifted to be entered in the social media challenge contest to win an Amazon gift card each week.

Write a letter, send an email, draw a picture and send it to your legislators, state school board members, the governor and/or other elected officials. Our message is: Gifted Education is Important!

Social Media Posts on Twitter, Facebook, or Instagram - Tag legislators to let them know the importance of gifted education. Use #ALgifted and #AlabamaAchieves tagging @alabamagifted
Beginning Tweeters: Create a Twitter account. Search for and retweet @alabamagifted

Invite elected officials such as legislators or school board members to your classroom. Have your students create, write, and send the invitations. Showcase student work during the visit. Share why gifted education is important.

Express Gratitude for our supporters! Join with students to write thank you notes, make phone calls, send email messages, and use social media to send thanks. Don't forget our elected officials. Document with description and photo in social media. Remember to use #algifted and #AlabamaAchieves and tag @alabamagifted

Take the ultimate challenge and visit Montgomery with your students. Have students speak to legislators about the importance of gifted education. Post pictures on social media!

Share the AAGC advocacy video found on our alabamagifted.org webpage with your students and parents, with legislators, in all social media platforms, at GEP meetings and events!

Your Choice! In what unique way are you choosing to be involved in GEM? Share what you are doing in your classroom. Be sure to post on social media!

